Emergency phone provides access to police services

Moraga police officer Michael Dreyfuss shows the new red emergency phone located next to the police department's office at 329 Rheem Blvd. Chief of Police Jon King explains that the phone is accessible 24/7 even if the department's offices are closed and connects people directly to the emergency dispatch. The chief adds that if someone needs immediate access to police services and does not have a cell phone handy, this red emergency phone will always be there.
