Family Focus

Two tips for boosting happiness

By Margie Ryerson

"Happiness is an inside job." ~William Arthur Ward

e all know people who seem "up" if she even needed to com- changing our internal dialogue by the outward trappings — money, had. prestige, job, family - aren't personal dissatisfactions. The folspiritual advice, but rather they are based on therapeutic psychological

1) Avoid comparing yourself to others.

It's human nature to compare and contrast ourselves with others. But some people do this to an extreme, many without even realizing ability to be happy and content.

way and then see others who have what you think you lack, you will only make yourself feel worse by making comparisons. Even if you feel relatively good about yourself, focusing on what others have can undermine some of your own positive feelings. Comparisons can be about physical appearance, athletic ability, financial success, achievements, artistic ability, friendships, family or a host of other things. only to those who have more, not to those who have less.

Many people, especially women, are self-conscious and selfcritical about their bodies. One woman in her 30s, Nina, came in for therapy to work on eliminating binge eating. She had been alternately binging and restricting for over five years. Nina was tired of being. feeling like a fraud as she worked with her physical therapy patients, admiration as positive motivation helping them take better care of for yourself. Perhaps you would their bodies.

habit of comparing herself to others. Her challenge was to notice a was important for Nina to develop perspective and balance because from a negative one. her perceptions were skewed. She said she felt mean finding people to have it all, yet they are pare at all. Nina needed much more becoming aware of messages we not completely happy. Sometimes emphasis on appreciating what she tell ourselves.

enough to overcome deep-seated habit of looking at his old college classmates and comparing their lowing steps for achieving greater successes to his self-perceived failhappiness are not meant to be ures. Rebecca constantly looked around at the multitudes of married couples while she was lonely and Making comparisons is a habit, and like any habit it takes effort over time to break. First, you must catch yourself in the act of doing it. Awareness is an essential tool in changing a behavior. Then it, and wind up sabotaging their it's important to focus on all that you have going for yourself. Try If you feel deficient in some to appreciate everything, large and small. You may not have your ideal home, but there are probably aspects of your home or its location that you do enjoy. You may not like your thighs, but at least you have a body that works. And you probably have other features that you do like. You may not have as much money as you would like, but you're probably better off than most other people in the world. You can remind yourself that no one has it all; even Most people compare themselves those who seem like they do often have challenges that aren't apparent to others.

> As you are practicing avoiding comparisons, you can concentrate on admiring the successes or beauty or personality of others. You can practice not allowing their good qualities or good fortune to detract from your own feelings of well-

You can then begin to use this like to be more like your friend One component of therapy who is in good shape or has a good for Nina was to rid herself of the relationship with her husband or who has a thriving career. This is your cue to work on these things body not in as good shape as hers for yourself. It is much easier to for each enviable body she saw. It improve ourselves when we come from a positive place rather than

2) Avoid Negative Self-Talk

We have all heard about the who looked worse than she did. But concept of seeing the glass as half since she wasn't hurting anyone by full rather than half empty. But we doing this, it was important for her can't just automatically do this for to be fair and not always compare ourselves. We need to first work on

I typically ask clients what Similarly, Evan was in the they would say to a good friend who is talking disparagingly about himself or herself. Would they tell their friend, "Well, you did a good job, but you could have done better." Or, "You didn't do well on the math test, Bar exam, SAT . . . so you must be pretty stupid." Or, "You're so selfish . . . fat . . . ugly . .. boring ..." No, instead too many people reserve these negative messages for themselves.

> Of course if you suffer from moderate to severe depression, it will be very difficult to make a shift out of negative territory on your own. You will most likely benefit from therapy and possible medica-

> But for many others, self-correction is possible with focus and motivation. It is important to catch yourself in the act of thinking negatively about yourself and then try to turn that message around. You don't need to make an extreme jump from "I'm so boring" to "I'm actually fascinating." Just trying to be neutral instead of negative will be a good start, perhaps telling yourself, "I 'm not boring when the conversation interests me," or "I rarely feel like I'm boring when I'm with certain people."

> Ultimately, of course, the goal is self-acceptance. Those who can accept themselves, limitations and all, are the fortunate ones, for they have a key to greater happiness.

Margie Ryerson, MFT, is a marriage and family therapist and author in Orinda and Walnut Creek. Contact her at 925-376-9323 or margierye@yahoo.com.

Vino is not your typical restaurant.

Our food is made only with the freshest and finest ingredients. We do not use any commercial sauces, hydrogenated oils or trans-fats. What we serve you is delicious, healthy food made with passion.

Beet Salad: fresh mint, tomato, golden raisins, goat cheese, herb vinaigrette....7 Sardines Insalata: calamata olives, green beans, potato, feta cheese, balsamic olive oil .....

Niman Flat Iron Steak: potato gratin, green beans, chimichurri sauce.......18 Fresh Seafood Cioppino: in a rich tomato-basil sauce, parmesan, garlic toast .. 19 Roasted Scallops: spinach, salciccia sugo ...... Roasted Wild Salmon: white wine, capers, braised greens, and potato gratin...17

3531 Plaza Way, Lafayette, (925) 284-1330 Open for dinner Wed. – Sat. 5 - 8:30 p.m.

ADULT DAY PROGRAM

for those with Alzheimer's or other related dementias

- STIMULATING
- ACTIVITIES
- LIVE MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT
- GAMES CRAFTS
- EXERCISE

LAMORINDA ADULT RESPITE CENTER 925-254-3465

433 Moraga Way Orinda www.holyshepherd.org

COMPLETE TREE CARE Proudly serving the East Bay since 1965! Fully Insured ❖ Certified Arborists ❖ License #655977

(925) 254-7233 * www.treesculpture.com

Saint Mary's College Dance Company Marks 20th Anniversary

Company celebrates 20 years of outstanding and diverse dance mission and $10 for SMC faculty performances with "Rise." An and staff and $5 for SMC students. evening of new works, this spring showcase features the choreography of the college's award-winning dance faculty, including Catherine-Marie Davalos, Pope Flyne, Dana Lawton, Rogelio Lopez, Elizebeth Randall Rains, Dima and Olga Su-Zaquia Mahler Salinas.

tion runs May 11-13 in the LeFevre walk to the LeFevre Theater. -Theater at Saint Mary's College, Peggy Spear

he Saint Mary's College Dance 1928 St. Mary's Road, Moraga.

Tickets are $15 General Ad-They can be purchased online at stmarys-ca.edu/dance-rise.

The college invites the public to celebrate the SMC Dance Company's 20th anniversary at a free special pre-performance reception at 6 p.m. May 12, in the SMC Art kachov, and Shaunna Vella, as well Museum. Mingle with choreograas guest artist and graduate student phers, dance program alumni, enjoy appetizers, live music by the "Rise" depicts how individu- SMC Music Department, and free als overcome contemporary chal- admission to the museum. Lolenges with love, strength, humor, cated at the SMC Art Museum intelligence and grace. The produc- Courtyard, the reception is a short

Let's Talk About Home Care.

Let's talk about how high quality, personalized in-home care can help you or a loved one.

Home care can keep older adults in their homes. 9 out of 10 of seniors prefer to age in their own homes. Hiring a caregiver provides the extra support an older adult may need to stay where they most prefer: at home.

Home care helps seniors stay independent longer. A caregiver provides support with activities of daily living, while encouraging mental and physical stimulation and overall wellness. They also promote safety in the home by preventing falls or other accidents.

Home care is personalized to each family. Our care plans at Home Care Assistance are tailored specifically to each client's unique needs and preferences. Caregivers are expertly matched and managed by our client care team. Caregivers are available for a few hours every day or around-the-clock.

Home care supports advanced care needs. Our caregivers are experienced and trained to support older adults who are transitioning home from the hospital, recovering from a stroke or a major medical procedure, or managing chronic conditions such as Alzheimer's, Parkinson's or diabetes.

Contact a Client Care Manager today to schedule your free in-home consultation!

925-233-6166 HomeCareAssistance.com/Alamo

190-G Alamo Plaza Alamo, CA 94507