Horizontal trim bands were added to balance the design.” Dana and Oliver Olsborg – who purchased the home in June, after moving from San Francisco – were drawn to the style of the home. “We love the French façade. My husband was born in Montreal and French was his first spoken language,” Dana Olsborg said. “Our boys speak French and this home just seemed very fitting for us! We also fell absolutely in love with the countryside views out the back.” Olsborg says her family loves their beautiful home and they love Lafayette.
