

Lamorinda Village prepares for fire season with help from community

One such caller said how appreciative she was for all that Lamorinda Village does – not just the shopping but also for the friendship, the personal warmth and caring that is shown, and sense of community and pride in community she feels from what is being done through Lamorinda Village. She has had shoppers who have left special notes or flowers or small surprises and says how heartwarming and how much the personal touches have meant.

“Personally, I am so grateful to be part of an organization that was able to adjust and adapt to all the challenges that this pandemic threw at us,” says Ishizu. “I’m also blown away by the tremendous response from the community who came together to help those who were most vulnerable. I feel very lucky to live in Lamorinda.”
