City returns to in-person public meetings on March 1

By Jennifer Wake

Coinciding with the end of state's COVID-19 State of Emergency Order on Feb. 28, all regular city of Lafayette public meetings will return to being held in-person starting March 1. The city plans to offer the ability for members of the public to participate virtually in regular meetings of the City Council, Planning Commission, Design Review Commission and Transportation-Circulation Commission, but cannot guarantee that technical difficulties will not occur. Unless required by the Brown Act, the meeting will continue despite technical difficulties for participants using the teleconferencing (Zoom) option. Meeting locations as well as instructions to make public comments via Zoom will be detailed on the meeting agendas, located on the city's website.
